Hello,

A little annoyance in theide is that if I try to operate the scrollbar on a text editor it will only scroll down, I'd have to use keys to go up or click the little arrow up button. The scrollwheel also works normally. But clicking or dragging won't make it go up, only down. The issue is only with the scrollbar pictured.

Hello Alboni,

The issue is not present with the latest U++ version with the GTK3 backend on Manjaro KDE. Can you update to the nightly and test. There is a huge difference between stable and nightly, because latest versions of U++ are using GTK3 instead of GTK2.

Sincerely,
Klugier
