
Subject: Please test your printer...

Posted by mirek on Mon, 18 Jun 2007 08:56:56 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

We have encountered a weird printing problem which looks like driver problem - but one never knows (plus it would be nice to identify a workaround).

Can you please (if you have a printer, one paper and 2 minutes) compile UWord, load attached file, print it and repost results?

File Attachments

1) test.qtf, downloaded 601 times

Subject: Re: Please test your printer...

Posted by Zardos on Mon, 18 Jun 2007 09:09:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

luzr wrote on Mon, 18 June 2007 10:56 Can you please (if you have a printer, one paper and 2 minutes) compile UWord, load attached file, print it and repost results?

Laserjet 5M: Prints without problems.

Subject: Re: Please test your printer...

Posted by pepe11 on Mon, 18 Jun 2007 09:11:39 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I did it. No problem.

XP, release 2007.1, net color laser printer.

Subject: Re: Please test your printer...

Posted by masu on Mon, 18 Jun 2007 10:09:48 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Test on a HP color laserjet 5500 PS successful.

Matthias

Subject: Re: Please test your printer...

Posted by kfeng on Sat, 14 Jul 2007 01:07:52 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Canon MP960: Printed Fine!
