Subject: Topic++ not included in export project?

I'm just beginning to use Topic++ in our application.
We develop in one area, and then export to the source tree for the application.

It seems that our application.tpp sub-directory is not included in the export to the source tree. Is that the expected behavior?

For now, I'll just put a symbolic link pointing back to the development area for this part of the UPP project.
